PLAYERS NEEDED FOR REVELRIES; CASTING TODAY

Parts for eight men and bit parts for several women will be cast for the Revelries of 1946 at tryouts this afternoon in the Morris Dailey auditorium from 4 until 6, Director Al Johnson announced yesterday.

Fifteen beautiful, delectable, and delectable-looking chorus girls will be chosen, also, according to Director Johnson.

"It's become increasingly easy to say no to aspiring chorines," stated Johnson, "so girls trying out for the line-up should not be too disappointed if they don't make it this time. It is more important for the show that we have 15 girls who are as much alike as possible."

The script has at last been completed and approved, Johnson added, and he further wished to reassure prospective tryouts.

Don't get panicky about trying out; no preparation is necessary; no technique or anything—I just want to look at you," Johnson stated yesterday. "This applies to men trying out for the eight men's roles as well as the chorines."

Folk Dance Club To Participate In Glen Park Festival

Sponsored by the San Francisco Recreation department, the Glen Park Folk Dancers will play hosts at a festival to be held Sunday, January 20, for members of the Folk Dance Federation of California.

San Jose State's Folk Dance club will attend the event and have extended an invitation to all students on campus who are interested in folk dancing to participate at the affair.

The festival will be held at Glen Park Recreation Center in Glen Park, San Francisco. Participants are requested by the San Francisco Recreation department, to wear soft soled shoes, tennis shoes, or dancing slippers, if possible.

A bus has been chartered for the trip and will cost $1 round trip. Sign-ups can be made with Miss Lenore Norona in the Women's PE office. Students planning to attend must sign-up by 11 a.m. on Friday of this week. The bus will leave at noon Sunday from the Women's gym.

Costumes Arrive For French Play

Costumes of the Victorian period arrive today for members of Iota Delta Phi's French comedy, "La Poudre Aux Yeux," which will be presented Thursday and Friday evenings this week.

High silk hats and cutaway coats characterize the costumes of the men, while those of the women are graced with bustles and high collars, according to Costume Mistress Marjorie Hampson.

TECHNICALITIES

Members of the technical staff have been putting the finishing touches to the production in the form of stage settings and properties, according to Business Manager Bill Lavin.

Designed by technical director J. Wendell Johnson and constructed with the assistance of Stage Manager Al Johnson of the speech department, two scenes have been prepared for the production. Jean Montgomery and Verna Zenier, properties mistresses, have procured the many items used to decorate the set and aid in the action of the comedy.

MAKEUP STAFF

Planning the makeup for the play are Kathy Hampson, Esther Hessling and Carmen Farr. The activities of this group will begin with the last two dress rehearsals when makeup will be passed on by Dr. Boris Gregory, French instructor and director of the play, and Beverly Lusardi, student director.

Technical Workers Wanted For Comedy

People are still needed to help with make-up and costumes on the technical staff for the comedy, "Brief Music," to be presented in the Student Union during the week of February 4. Half a dozen men are also needed as a seating crew, to arrange chairs for the audience for each performance.

Those interested in helping with the make-up are asked to leave their names with Mr. James Clancy, costumes with Mrs. Marie Carr, the seating crew with Dr. Hugh Gillis by tomorrow.

No previous experience is necessary for the jobs. Everyone interested is requested to volunteer.

The production is under the direction of Mr. James Butler and will be presented "penthouse style," with the audience sitting on all four sides of the stage area.

Tonight's Game Off; Meet SFS Tomorrow

Tonight's game with the University of San Francisco was cancelled because of conflicting schedules. USF will instead meet the Santa Clara University Broncos in the Kezar pavilion at 8 o'clock.

The Spartan cagers will meet the San Francisco State Gators tomorrow night in the local gym in a return game, the McPherson forces having taken the initial game from the bay area athletes 62-51 earlier in the season at Kezar pavilion.

Fresh from their Saturday night win over the Aztecs from San Diego State, the Spartans will floor a sharp-shooting quintet tomorrow that features Don "Dutch" Boysen, Ed Maggetti, and Wes Stevenson. George Keene, who will leave the end of this week for the armed forces, has "found his eye," and has seemed to hit his stride both offensively and defensively. George scored 11 points in Saturday night's tilt, so will be tough to replace.

Some sort of a scoring duel ought to be on hand tomorrow night when the Gators bring down their tall center, Collingsworth. He was in the Spartans' hair all evening the first time the two clubs met, and since that time has been hitting the bucket with a great degree of consistency. Collingsworth tallied no less than 28 points against Chico State last week, while the opposing center was racking up 29. That game was also played in the Kezar pavilion that saw our own Ed Maggetti score 25 points against the same SFS club.

Juniors Change Meeting Time

Skating party, council meeting time, and February 2 dance—all were discussed at yesterday's Junior council meeting.

The council decided that tickets for the student body skating party scheduled for Thursday, January 24, will be sold in a booth in the Library arch tomorrow and Friday by members of the council.

Regular time for the weekly council meeting has been changed to 12:30 Tuesdays for the convenience of council members who have noon classes on Mondays.

The February 2 dance will be a girls' date affair and jeans and gingham will be worn. Betty Doyle is in charge of the dance.

Information, Audience Participation, And Variety Entertainment Planned

This morning's assembly at 11 o'clock in the Morris Dailey auditorium is scheduled to present to students a complete bill of entertainment, audience participation, and thought-provoking first-hand information from the European campus scene. Pat Cavanagh, acting ASB president, will open the assembly, after which John Calderwood will take over as master of ceremonies. He will introduce Jack Ward's "Dixieland Trio," which will be followed by Milo Badger, Irish tenor, who will offer several selections.

MAGICIAN

A special attraction will be Everett Lyda, chairman of recreation of the city of San Jose, secretary of the Mystic 13, local magicians' society, and State alumnus of 1937. He will give a demonstration of the technique to be used in extracting money from Dean of Men Paul M. Pitman. Aside from this one event, there will be no solicitation of funds of any sort at the assembly. Mr. Lyda will perform some additional stunts, as well as his skill in getting cash contributions.

DR. LOVETT

Meat will be added to the corn with the introduction of Dr. Sidney Lovett, chaplain of Yale University and chairman of World Student Service Fund in the United States. Dr. Lovett recently returned from a three month trip through the ravaged countries on the Continent, investigating post war conditions among university and college students as regards the reconstruction of normal collegiate programs. He will talk on the subject of what it means to be a college student today.

January Deadline For Societies To Get In La Torre

Bill Shaw, business manager for the 1946 La Torre, announced that all organizations that have not yet contracted for a page in the yearbook must do so immediately and pay for the space by January 31.

No page space will be contracted after that date in order to send the annual to be printed and distributed by June.

All organizations making plans for reorganization and are not sure about page space for their group should contact Shaw immediately so that tentative plans may be made.

Page space can be arranged for through any member of La Torre business staff in the Publications office or Business office. Members of the staff are Lois Baker, Bud Hooten and Hugh Johnston.

Deadline for all photographs to be taken at Bushnell's studio is February 15. No photographs will be taken after that time, and appointments may be made immediately in the Publications office.

NOON DANCES WILL RELIEVE CROWDED COOP CONDITIONS

Noon dances upstairs in the Student Union are being planned by the Social Affairs committee to relieve some of the congestion in the coop at 12. The committee has been granted the use of the PA system from Monday to Friday of each week. The equipment will be kept in the Student Body office. Pete Galli, chairman of Social Affairs this quarter announces that the dances will last for about two hours on Tuesdays and Thursdays. Suggestions are in order as to what can be done about crowded coop conditions on the other days of the week.

CLASS SPIRIT

It was suggested at yesterday's Student Council meeting that something be done about the lack of class spirit among the students. It seems that the class councils are made up of the same people each year, and the majority of the members know little about individual class officers or activities.

George Millias, Spardi Gras chairman, announced that he will appoint two sub-chairmen to help him prepare for the event.

AWA Members Fill Cabinet Vacancies

At a recent meeting of the AWA cabinet, Betty Sills, Barbara Moore, and Dorothy Moody, all active in previous AWA activities, were appointed to fill the vacancies in the cabinet left by Phyllis Forward, Midge Doyle, and Betty Reagan. The newly appointed members will serve on the cabinet for the remaining two quarters.

In addition, two pro-tem appointments were made in which Pat Polk and Monnie Wishart, active members in student affairs, were named to serve temporarily in place of D. J. Hendersen and June Storni, both of whom are student teaching.

President Roberta Ramsey, vice-president Joan Ross, and secretary Doris Moody appointed Jackie Popp, past Big Sister chairman, to take over the duties of treasurer. The newly appointed women, plus the remaining members, will govern AWA activities for the rest of the year.

DISUNITY AMONG UNITED NATIONS DISQUIETING

By ROWLAND MITCHELL

With the hope of humanity resting upon the success of the London UNO conference now in progress, where delegates from the four corners of the earth are striving desperately to insure mankind against annihilation by an atomic-age war, it is indeed disquieting to read the current press reports of disunity among the "united" nations, conceded Dr. Aurelia Henry Reinhardt, noted educator and world traveler, who spoke Saturday in the second of her series of weekly lectures on international relations.

"The news is discouraging, yet we must not be discouraged," she declared. "There are many elements favoring the eventual success of the United Nations Organization."

The very atmosphere of the site chosen for the UNO meetings is such as to inspire confidence, Dr. Reinhardt pointed out. The nations have elected as their meeting place Central Hall on Parliamentary Square, world-renowned as a place of arbitration, in the heart of that country traditionally known as the mother of parliament.

Among the historical landmarks in the area, standing intact beside those ruined by German bombs, is a statue of Abraham Lincoln, proudly displayed in Parliamentary Square.

Today Lincoln, one of the great heroes of the British, and indeed of Mankind, exerts an influence over the delegation manifested not only in the presence of his statue, but in the underlying spirit of the gathering, and in the fact in the very words of Prime Minister Atlee, who in his opening speech at the London conference dedicated the event in words phrased like those of Lincoln at Gettysburg.

"In that spiritual presence of Lincoln, champion of peace and freedom, lies assurance for the success of the conference," stated Dr. Reinhardt.

"The constructive thinking of Wilson and the success and failure of the Covenant have contributed to the potential success of the UNO Charter," Dr. Reinhardt added. "It is true the Covenant had no teeth, and the Charter hasn't many, but we don't want a baby to get its teeth all at once."

Referring to reports of discord among the Big Five, Dr. Reinhardt called attention to the fact while those nations are basically intent upon world peace and international cooperation, still they are motivated to a greater or less degree by a natural self-interest, a fact ill-concealed, if at all.

"Winston Churchill declared during the war that he had not become prime minister to see the British Empire shattered," she recalled. "Russia is obvious in her plan to surround herself with a periphery of buffer states; the French are coming in for benefits toward which they did not contribute; and the United States and China are certainly not without their private interests."

British and American splits with Russia are not on the same grounds, the speaker asserted. With Britain and Russia it is not an industrial or political difference, but one born of the fact that Britain is a colonial empire while the USSR is self-sustained. On the other hand, rifts between the United States and Russia are the result of political differences. We distrust Russia because we fear her political system.

REASONS FOR DISCORD

Other natural bases for lack of accord among nations, Dr. Reinhardt explained, are the differences in historical background between them, the equalizing effect of popular revolutions, and differences in governments evolved from monarchies and non-monarchies.

Dr. Reinhardt was introduced at this second in her series of 10 lectures on United Nations affairs by Ralph R. Fields, city superintendent of schools. Bishop L. C. Sanford of Los Gatos offered the invocation.

NEXT LECTURE

The speaker's third lecture will be given next Saturday at 2 p.m. in the Little Theater. Her subject at this time will be "England and Her World Empire."

Succeeding lectures will deal with France and foreign policy; China in world history; Russia,

Qualifications For Council Explained

By WALT CRANOR

In the last article of this series you read about the election of your Student Council and their duties as a body. In this article you will read about the qualifications that had to be met by your present officers before they could assume office, or even run for office, and the duties of the President of the Student Body.

The four executive officers shall have attained at least junior standing at the time of taking office. They shall have attended San Jose State for at least one year and shall not be special students, or on probation at the time of election.

The two Student Councillors shall not be special students or on probation at the time of election. All Council members must be members of the Associated Students.

Any vacancy occurring in the Student Council may be filled by a two-thirds majority vote of the Council members.

DUTIES OF THE PRESIDENT

It is the duty of the President of the Associated Students to preside at all meetings of the Associated Students or the Student Council. He shall enforce all legislation relating to the administration of the Associated Students. He shall appoint committees, when they are needed, for the carrying on of Associated Students activities. These committees are subject to the approval of the Council.

THRUST AND PARRY

BASKETBALL PROGRAMS

Dear Thrust and Parry:

Programs are being distributed free to all persons who attend the San Jose State college basketball games. These programs are furnished free to the students, and other spectators, through the courtesy of the individual advertisers on these programs. They are really nice to have, and it is a real privilege to San Jose State to get them!

However, the use of these programs to make confetti, which is in turn used to torment the opposing team members seated on the bench, is definitely "frowned upon." The use of these programs to make "gliders" is also not looked upon as the most pleasing demonstrations of intelligence. The indiscriminate throwing of the programs onto the court is not only asinine, it is dangerous. One member of SJSC's cage team was seen to slip and fall on one of these misplaced programs Saturday night during the half time warm-up period. He could have been out of commission for the second half, if he hadn't had a hard head, and SJSC would not have won by the score she did.

The programs are very nice; let's keep them that way, as we are fortunate in having them.

FREE SPEECH?

Thrust and Parry:

What's the matter, can't the Vets stomach free speech any more? Did the boys who fought for the Four Freedoms stay in polluted lands too long? Have they become contaminated with Nazi ideals of garroting free speech? Tojo could not have shown better taste in decorating our campus.

Now that I have that off my chest, I say "Welcome home fellows, and thanks for what you did over there."

MORE FREE SPEECH

Thrust and Parry:

The job of editing a college paper is a tough one and you deserve credit for your fine work on the "Spartan Daily." I was extremely disappointed, however, to discover that such an article as appeared in January 11 issue by "The Weaver," Dave Webster, could be given space.

Perhaps, then, there would be room to print a few words from me in answer to Mr. Webster. I wonder what he did during the war. Enlistments were open. Perhaps he is more envious of the advantages given the vets in the GI school bill than he was of their participation in the war to keep our democracy (and incidentally, the rights guaranteed to one and all alike). May I suggest that if he thinks vets have had such a gravy train, he might enlist for a few years in the Army of occupation (where living in fox-holes and killing are not now necessary) and then return to school "on the gravy train" himself.

Personally, I'm glad I had a chance to do my part for my country; I'm glad to be alive; I appreciate the fact that Uncle Sam has made it possible for me to continue my schooling now that the war is over, and I expect no special favors—no pie and no rubbers brought by the other students.

REGISTRAR TO VISIT USC JANUARY 17, 18

Registrar Joe H. West has been appointed by the State department of Education to a committee that will visit the University of Southern California January 17 and 18.

The initial purpose of the committee is to evaluate USC for accreditation by the State board of Education to give training and make recommendations for certain credentials authorizing public school service.

There are six persons on the committee, the chairman of which is Mr. Frank Thomas of Fresno.

As teacher training institutes have to be checked in this manner every five years, San Jose State college will be visited by a similar committee on January 23.
